BREAKING A BURRO IS NOT A FAKE

BOY IS THROWN OFF AND RUN OVER BY A WAGON.

Little Lawrence Kinsella tried his hand at burro breaking yesterday morning and came home with bloody face and disordered raiment, but with the smile of the man who wins shining all over his smeared face. He had tried to break a wild burro to the saddle and the burro got the better of the test. After Lawrence had been hurled over the head of the beast, a wagon tore around the corner and ran over the boy and knocked the burro loose.

The boy gathered himself up and escorted the burro to a stable, where he looked to see that the animal was not seriously injured. Then Lawrence walked into the house and fainted. Under the care of his mother the boy rallied and is inquiring how the burro made out.

PROMPT PAYMENT OF A LIFE POLICY

CONTINENTAL LIFE SENDS CHECK FOR AMOUNT IN FIVE DAYS.

Mrs. Christina Robinson of Alamo, Nev., will be gratified to hear that the life policy on her husband, who died in the Mine Operators' hospital, Tonopah, October 27, will be paid without any delay. The payment was received yesterday by Charles A. Starr, general agent for Nevada for the Continental Life Insurance and Investment company of Salt Lake, Utah, and this morning's southbound train carried the check in the registered mail.

Ed J. Robinson, who was employed by the Wittenberg company as teamster, died October 27, 1913, and, owing to the isolated postoffice where his widow receives her mail, a delay of fifteen days ensued before the proofs were submitted to the Continental. The day after proof was received at Salt Lake the check for $2000 was made out and mailed to Tonopah. The policy was in force only seven months and would have lapsed had it not been for the foresight of Mr. Wittenberg, who paid the amount of the premium and thus protected his employer. Proofs of death were mailed from Tonopah November 22 and the check received on the 27th. This will come to the wife as a very pleasant surprise, as at the time of the death she was without means to defray the expenses of coming to Tonopah to attend the funeral, as she has been working on a farm to support herself and four children. Alamo is 60 miles from Caliente, in Lincoln county.—Adv.
